

Searching For Values

For ages 7 and up

About The Game: Parents and teachers should take some time every day to talk to children about their values. This word search will help children think about and talk about the values that are important in getting along with others.

Directions: Give the word search to the child and ask her to circle all the words she can find. Words can go in any direction: up, down, across, backwards, and diagonally. At the end of the game the child will get 1 point for each word she finds and 2 points if she can give an example of when she did something that demonstrated each value. The answers to the word search can be found on the next page.
